We are financially sound.

Education:

Zoom with Kim Gentry for bit fitting. So well received we are bringing her in from Tennessee for a two day clinic in October - full with waiting list.

Zoom meeting with Shea Stewart for saddle fitting presentation.

Zoom meeting with motivational speaker Daniel Stewart.

Canceled activities for 2020:

No schooling show

Low cost clinic

Awards Banquet:

No attended awards banquet though we did do online to present awards which were mailed.

We also put our annual quilt made by member Dyanna Lawson for on line bidding to benefit Scholarship Fund.

Pool Party for this August. Pot luck and games!

We did have a holiday get together via Zoom.

Adult Camp - Clinician Sherry Guess - full and always highlight of the year - already scheduled for this year. this is for FWDC members who volunteer throughout the year - funded by The Dressage

Foundation - three days of private and 2 person group lessons, lectures, and demonstrations. Charles Scott of Noble Champions donates his facility with indoor arena, viewing lounge, sound system and media room.

Low cost clinic - for members to ride with a local professional at a reduced cost. This year will be Kasey Mix - USDF Bronze and Silver Medalist. David and Tricia Scott donate their beautiful facility, stalls available, great sound system and we have a pot luck lunch.

Recognized show:

Thankfully full - ran well with all the COVID restrictions. Was challenging but thanks to show management and great volunteers and appreciative exhibitors a success. Donated to Wings of Hope as our charity.

Scholarship Program:

FWDC offers members who volunteer funds to further their dressage education and goals.

Other activities:

Monthly column in Southwest Horsetrader - this has been another way to get information there is dressage in our area and our activities.

Monthly meetings via Zoom - though we are considering in person soon. Have been well attended with new members also contributing ideas.

FWDC has been mentioned in 2 articles in Dressage Today!
